Berard team members are the experts in moving the world's most massive cargo. This project was another example of the massive moves we undertake. A major shipyard commissioned the team to load out multiple dry dock modules onto their main dry dock for launching. The team used a total of 96 axle lines of SPMTs powered by 4 power packs to first lift the modules from their supports. With the load lifted to transport height, Berard SPMT operators slowly moved the cargo towards the bulkhead to begin the load out phase. Steel plating was utilized to ensure proper ground support as the 3,288 ton modules were moved over land. Berard worked closely with shipyard dry dock engineers to begin the roll on process. The modules slowly transitioned onto the dry dock and moved onto pre-positioned supports and lowered. The shipyard later launched each module and towed them to their Florida facility where they will be joined together to form the completed build. The team worked hard on this one and we appreciate their hard work and dedication!

Supporting Our Community World Championship Gumbo Cook-Off

The team had a great time at two events that help support our community. First up was the World Championship Gumbo Cook-Off in New Iberia. Chicken and sausage gumbo was on deck and everyone loved it! The next weekend the team cooked up some delicious backstrap poppers at the Loreauville St. Joesph's Church Tailgate Cook-off. Another great time was had by everyone!
