When super loads need to get there fast, Berard's got you covered. Within a span of only four weeks from being awarded, Berard planned, secured permits for both Texas and Louisiana, and delivered these two large vessels from the fabricator in Texas to the final delivery point in Louisiana. Our superload transport team made the trip in a timely manner, all while safely transiting through two states. Thanks to everyone on this transport, including our drivers & heavy haul team, police and contract escort team. Another project delivered on time with a satisfied client.

Crane 70 Voyage Update

Crane 70 is on the move. In our December issue we featured this massive 1,100 ton crane our team loaded out in Manitowoc, Wisconsin destined for Bremerton, Washington State where it will be offloaded to rail. Berard engineers developed the load out and ballast plan as well as the sea-fastening design and installation for the 8,842 nautical mile marine transit which is sailing through two foreign waterways on its way to the final location. We're happy to report that the voyage is going according to plan. One of the interesting portions of the trip included transiting the Panama Canal. We'll keep you updated as the journey progresses.

Congratulations Jacob Rogers & Alex Mandeville!

JACOB ROGERS
HEAVY HAUL SUPERVISOR

ALEX MANDEVILLE
PROJECT LEADERMAN

Our team is celebrating two team member promotions today. Jacob Rogers and Alex Mandeville have been recently promoted to Heavy Haul Supervisor and Project Leaderman, respectively. Both Jacob and Alex have demonstrated dedication and loyalty, along with leadership skills, throughout their time with Berard. Our operations team continues to improve as the company grows! Please congratulate these guys as you see them out in the field.
